PREFACE

This record being incomplete, we ask the co-operation of all in the further prosecution of the work until we are able to locate every one of the descendants. With this co-operation we will, if it be your wish, in two years from this date publish a supplement so arranged that it can easily be attached in the book. This supplement to contain record of those we have been unable to get for this publication; records of births, deaths, marriages and changes in address of those found in the book; corrections of mistakes, if there be any in the information now presented, and any additional items you may suggest. All matter intended for this revision must be in my hands not later than August 10, 1916.

I have done the best I could to have these records correct. I have in many instances had to deal with conflicting dates which have been sent in by different members of the same families. Many of these coming in too late to be proven, I have had to make a guess as to which was correct. Doubtless I have made mistakes also, and this is why I shall be glad to take up this matter of the first revision, which afterward should be in the hands of a more capable person.

Too late for this publication some signified a wish to have the pictures of their families in the book. This might be arranged for the supplement by those desiring sending in the cut ready to be printed.

Hoping all will take an interest and pride in bringing to light information required to make a complete genealogical record, I am

Yours to serve,

Aug. 18, 1914.

E. A. WILLIS, Bluffton, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. George Allender

George Allender was born in Virginia July 1, 1772. He was of pure English descent, and his wife, Elizabeth Overly, born September 6, 1778, whom he married in Kentucky, was of the pure German descent. They emigrated from Fleming County, Ky., to Rush County, Ind., in the year 1826, taking up their home on a quarter section of land two miles west of what is now Arlington, use to be Burlington. There they erected the log house, the remains of which appear pictured on another page, where they resided until death. George died very suddenly as he sat in his chair on Monday morning, September 6, 1852. Elizabeth died July, 1863.

Of the fourteen children born to this union, the most of them established homes for themselves and families in Rush county, residing there until death. Delilah had her home in Shelby county; Lydia, in Henry county, and Isabella in Tipton county. But as will be seen by the addresses found in this book the descendants are widely scattered. These are all the present addresses of parties.

The first Reunion was held September, 1912, at Arlington, Ind. There were more than 200 present at this first gathering, among them being fifteen of George and Elizabeth's grand-children, viz. John A. Eaton, James H. Allender, Mrs. Lizzie Nelson, Mrs. Phebe Moss, Mrs. Nancy J. McDaniel, Stephen Laden, William H. Allender, Mrs. Mary J. Kennett, George W. Parish, Mrs. Narcissa A. Gates, Mrs. E. A. Willis, Morton Allender, Mrs. Sophronia Brown, Frank Zornes, and Mrs. Sarah C. Schumaker.

Officers elected at this reunion: Morton Allender, President; Mrs. Nora Offutt, Vice-President; Lesner H. Allender, Secretary; Mrs. Mattie Hufford, Treasurer.

All that remains of the log house erected by George Allender after coming to Indiana in 1826 where they resided until death.
